Students enjoyed an info session early this semester.

The CCD wrapped up its year-long series Exploring Career Clusters this week when four alums talked to a group of students about careers in tech. The alums shared career...
advice applicable across all fields:

On culture:
"Start ups with ping pong tables may be fun, but look for an employer whose values align with your own."

On negotiating job offers:
"Salary is one factor but make sure to consider the entire benefits package, including retirement, vacation, and things that may not feel relevant now, but could be very soon. If you do negotiate, make sure it is important enough for you to risk the offer being withdrawn."

On standing out as a new hire:
"Be resourceful and eager to learn. Consciously build your network both inside your employer and out. You never know where your next opportunity will present itself."

Cope with stress?

Take a few minutes April 23 at 2:00 pm to get your zen on! Elizabeth Slater (a certified expert in the practice of mindfulness) will lead you through a mindfulness exercise as you move your thoughts from finals and papers to relaxation and self-awareness. These valuable tools can be used throughout your internship, job, or graduate school search, pre-interviews and beyond!

RSVP in Handshake. Light snacks and cucumber water will be available.
